

The accounting department can now have its OWN website. Frightening, isn't it?

Maybe the Twister™ intranet server is too easy to use.

It plugs into your network quicker than a bean counter rejects a travel expense, and its amazing built-in wizards help with set-up and web page creation.

Bam, there you have it, an intranet website, accessible with any browser on the planet.

It's just the thing for workgroup publishing and information sharing. And to make it even easier, Twister comes bundled with leading website development and publishing tools from Claris and Net-It Software.

There's no way to mess it up, either, because Twister has no big general-purpose operating system to confuse or crash. Twister simply is. Which, in addition to Zen-like simplicity, means unbeatable security and bombproof reliability.

Twister has a gigabyte of storage, but if you need more, just connect additional SCSI devices.

Finally, Twister is so cheap to buy, configure, and administer, even the most
